NEKTON-DOG-NATURAL-PLUS Vital materials on natural base for dogs

NEKTON-Dog Natural plus is a completely new and useful complementary compound which contains natural substances. In scientific terms, these are known as “secondary plant substances” or “bio-active substances”. These vital substances also have positive effects on purely nutritional functions (as energy and nutrient carriers) regarding general well-being or wellness, for digestive and utilization-supporting measures in organisms and thus also protects against negative external influences. The effects of bio-active substances have been well tested for animals. NEKTON-Dog Natural plus is often used to carefully compensate for irregularities in digestion, such as diarrhea or constipation, as a natural additive to raw feeding or to improve the utilization of nutrients and active substance in everyday diet. For dogs, the essential amino acid L-carnitine is additionally included, which has considerable advantages for the dog’s energy metabolism.
